In 2020, the average UK funeral costs almost £4,400. Over the last 10 years alone, cremation fess have risen by 58%. Burial funeral costs, which account for 23% of funerals, have increased further, having risen by 65%.

The cost of a funeral doesn't just depend on whether you choose cremation or burial though. It also depends on where you live, as funerals costs vary by region.

The cost of a funeral varies throughout the UK. As you may expect, London funeral costs are the most expensive, however funeral costs in other regions of the UK have risen at a faster rate.

Where are UK funeral costs the highest?

- London £5,235 (+3.4%)
- South East & East of England £5,007 (+9.8%)
- East and West Midlands £4,488 (+3.9%)
- Yorkshire and the Humber £4,270 (-3.6%)

Where are UK funeral costs the lowest?

- Northern Ireland £3,222 (-7.4%)
- Wales £3,718 (+0.4%)
- North West England £3,785 (+5.2%)
- North East England £3,826 (-1.8%)

According to Sunlife's 2021 Cost of Dying report, funeral costs in the South East increased by 9.8% between 2019 and 2020 and this is a huge difference in comparison to the average national increase of 1.20%

WHY CHOOSE A PRE-PAID FUNERAL PLAN

Purchasing a funeral plan enables you to pre-plan and pre-pay your funeral service wishes in advance

- In doing so, you will enjoy peace of mind and key benefits. Purchasing a funeral plan helps remove the emotional burden and much of the financial worry from your next of kin at a time in their lives when they are least able to cope.
- A funeral plan enables you to fix the cost at today's prices and also enables you to specify precisely what funeral you'd wish for, as opposed to leaving your next of kin wondering which funeral service you would have liked.

WHY CHOOSE A PRE-PAID FUNERAL PLAN

Secure the funeral you desire while protecting your loved ones from the emotional and financial costs

- Funeral Plans help individuals and families in the UK prepare for a very difficult time
- Funerals in the UK can be very expensive, costing several thousand pounds. According to SunLife, funerals make up the largest amount in the total cost of dying. In 2020, the average cost of a funeral was £4,417. With the rising prices of services and commodities, this amount is expected to rise further.
- A funeral plan enables you to fix the cost at today's prices. The sooner you start on a plan, the better you can avoid rising funeral costs and the greater your savings can be.
- Funeral plans also enable you to specify precisely what funeral you'd wish for, as opposed to leaving your next of kin wondering which end-of-life services you would have liked.

Why do we need funeral plans?

- Having a funeral plan is a great opportunity to put your affairs in order, and protect those closest to you from the stress and expense of arranging your funeral.
- We understand that everyone will make diverse choices concerning the funeral service they would wish for, and we acknowledge that people wish to fund these funeral wishes in a variety of ways.
- By selecting a Golden Leaves funeral plan, you will be able to shield your family from rising funeral costs and take comfort in knowing that your funeral expenses won't be a burden to your family at an upsetting and difficult time. Planning your own funeral in advance will also ensure that your preferences are respected and followed. Your wishes are in the safest hands if you choose a Golden Leaves funeral plan.

FIXED MONTHLY PAYMENT (FMP)

Our range of fixed monthly funeral payment plans allow you to spread the cost of planning your funeral for up to 40 years. Even a 75 year old could spread the cost over 15 years.

- The great thing about this plan is once you have made 12 monthly payments you are then covered for the services stipulated in the plan as long as you continue making the payments.
- If you die any time after the 12 month qualifying period your funeral will be paid for.
- If you are lucky enough to live to the age of 90 we will not take any further payments from you and the cover will continue until you pass away.
- There is also accidental death cover in the first 12 months. So if you die as a result of an accident your funeral service as stipulated in the plan are covered. Even if you die of natural causes we will still refund the premiums paid with a 20% enhancement.
- Low up front deposit of just £25.00
- Competitive monthly premiums which will not increase
- Golden Leaves unique overpayment rebate promise
- Our Silver, Gold and Platinum plans also offer guaranteed cremation and minister fees as well as guaranteeing to meet all the Funeral Director costs at the time of need
- No Medical Underwriting. Not even a smoker question
- Available for ages 50 to 75
- Starting from £17.09 per month

*FMP is not available for Green or Copper plans.
